Junior Law (non compus mentis): An animal whose species is a matter of conjecture among scientists. Anthropologists and other scientific men differ as to whether this animal is a degenerate man or a type of the higher order of ape. "The first is scarcely possible," writes Dr. Sam Kyle, Ph. D. D., of Brackenridge Hall (dish dropper of Brackenridge Hall). The majority of the leading scientists who have studied the queer creature are of the opinion that it is really a most wonderful example of anthropomorphism, even surpassing that of the orang or gilla. This animal's features, if such they may be called, are really wonderful. They resemble those of a man at first glance, but when more closely studied, they prove to be coarser and the ape-like stare is found to be present.

The body bears a close resemblance to that of an ape. The lower limbs are exceedingly well developed. This is accounted for by the fact that it always relies upon running as a means of safety. Its feet and hands, or paws, are unusually large—thus we are justified in supposing that at one time it inhabited "the land of the tall timber." These enormously large hands and long arm-like fore legs are also of great use to it in its manner of "feeding," as it snatches its food in its paws and ravenously crams it into its immense unfathomable mouth. It is not known whether the Junior Law is carnivorous, or herbivorous—but it is supposed that it is the latter, for it is incapable of securing animal food of any kind. The truth is, the creature will eat almost anything obtainable, especially hash.

Some scientific investigators argue that the Junior Law really has the power of thought and reasoning developed to a slight degree. They base this absurd statement upon the study of the Junior Laws now kept at the University of Texas by the American Society of Anthropological and Prehistoric Research. These animals, it is claimed, have also learned to read very simple sentences and to carry on a kind of jargonizing jabber slightly resembling ancient Latin.

Some newspapers actually declare that at the far-famed Brackenridge Hall a second table is set for these creatures and that their audible feeding affords great amusement to the Freshmen who board there. One paper actually goes so far as to state that a certain scientist by the name of Dr. Henry, who is studying the Junior Law at the Texas College, has actually succeeding in teaching the creature to take a shower bath. This must have taken infinite patience and Dr. Henry deserves the Carnegie medal. This same periodical further continues that Dr. Henry some day hopes to get out a Junior Law football team, and then give a real exhibition of old time football without endangering human life, but it is rumored that the Austin Humane Society will interfere with this cruel enterprise. If rosters can be taught to fight, why cannot Junior Laws be taught to play football?

The tribe, or drove, kept at the previously mentioned college live in "debasement" in the lower regions and are tenderly cared for by the Engineers and Freshmen. They are never allowed out at night, for they are very susceptible to "cold feet." It occasionally falls to the duty of the Engineers to lead the Junior Laws out on the banks of a certain tank that they may be "exercised" and given a view of the "landscape." It is hoped that the Freshmen will be careful and not exterminate these wonderful curiosities as they did the long-forgotten Perry. Senator Eightbrain is trying to get the United States government to take some steps to protect the Junior Law in hopes that he might be taught to pick cotton or raise rice. Such a step would really be a worthy experiment.

Four Junior Laws sat on a tree.
One took a drink, then there were three;
Another got angry and started to swear.
Flew off in a passion, thus leaving a pair;
The next got broke by losing a bet,
And having to borrow, got smothered in debt;
The last one got lonely, and seeing an Engineer,
Led out a long chase and thought he'd steer clear.

Rah, Rah, Ree! Rah Rah Ree!
A w. Kw A-rd!
Junior Laws!

Weather Prophet Stroter, with becoming modesty and humbleness, said to a Freshman: "Please, sir, won't you use your influence and keep my name out of the Freshman issue of the Texan? You see, I don't like this news paper notoriety at all."

BASKET BALL.

The first basket ball game of the season was played last Saturday, January 20, when the Varsity girls beat the girls of the Dear and Dumb Institute by a score of 26 to 4. There was splendid work done on each side and much enthusiasm was felt by the spectators. The D. & D.'s proved worthy opponents, but the Varsity's team work was wonderful. The D. & D. girls are very quick, but not enough so to prevent the Varsity from scoring thirteen times.

D. & D.

Augusta Mickalka, Anna Dumas—goal.

Emmie Fountain—side center and captain.

Eva Harold—center.

Annie Sowell, Minnie Barrett, defense.

Willie Thatcher, Imogene Thrasher—goal.

Altogether the Saturday game was a most interesting one and well worth seeing.

CORONAL INSTITUTE VS. VARSITY.

More interest was felt in the Coronal game on Monday and there was more excitement concerning it than the preceding one, for droves of Coronal girls came to "root" and San Marcos supporters poured in on all sides. Altogether it was a most hilarious and interesting crowd gathered Monday to see the game. Coronal pennants fought with Texas ones and their purple and gold tried to outshine our orange and white. But all to no avail, for the score was 64 to 2 in our favor at the end of the well-fought struggle. Each side worked hard, and considering the difference in the teams both sides deserve great credit. The Coronals have never had a coach and this makes a great difference. They realize their weak points, and have gone home determined to remedy them.

The Varsity team did phenomenal work and deserve more applause than even that which they received. Special mention must be made of Miss Willie Thatcher, who made 19 of the goals, out of 32. Her playing was remarkable and she was the heroine of the hour. Every individual girl on the team worked hard and did her part well. Much credit is due to the trainers, for the passes were like lightning and so placed as to give little opening to the other side. The opposing team had been accustomed to a larger field for play and higher goals, both of which proved disadvantageous to them. Those on the Coronal team were:

Ina Rylander—side center.

Lois Mohle—center.

Abbie Graham, Armour Heppenstall—defenses.

Louella Rylander, Mary Graham—goals.

Varsity.

Emmie Fountain—side center and captain.

Bessie Thatcher—center.

Annie Sowell, Minnie Barrett, defense.

Willie Thatcher, May Hopkins—goals.

It was a grand game and all who witnessed it were ready to give nine raps for Coronal and invite them back again. Hurrah for the Varsity Team!

THE CACTUS.

The work of the Cactus is progressing rapidly, and in a short time the contents of the entire book will be in the hands of the printers. All photographs are expected to be handed in by the last of this month. The board is working hard, and is doing its part, therefore we should all give them our support by doing our share of the work promptly and aiding the staff in every way possible. All contributions must be in by February 10th.

An opportunity has been given this week for every student in the University to sign for his copy of the Cactus. Those being out of the city should write the business manager to save them a copy. This is essential in securing a copy, for extra copies can not be had after the first form goes to press.

All contributions to the Cactus this year must be handed in by February 10th. The grinds department will be better than ever before. The Editor is working hard but is depending largely on the Freshmen to hand in jokes, limericks, poetry, etc., on themselves and the Junior Laves. Cartoons will also be appreciated. Now, Freshmen, make this a class matter and see that the class is well represented.

The young ladies who are chosen as the most beautiful for the Cactus will be beautiful. None but beautiful photographs will be used, so Mrs. Elliott says.

GLEE CLUB.

The Glee Club leaves Saturday to give a concert at San Marcos. A chorus of twenty voices will make the trip, accompanied by Maurice Wolfe and Ernest Smith, who will appear in specialties. A part of the Mandolin Club will also go. The club has some unusually promising material this year and bids fair to make a very creditable record.

There is great excitement over the beauty pages for Cactus. It's going to be a hard job choosing from all the beautiful photographs that the Elliotts have made.

THE NATIONAL STUDENT CONVENTION.

Thousands will Gather at Nashville in the Cause of Christianity.

The subject at the University this week is the great convention of college students to be held in Nashville, Tenn., during the last week of February. It is not extravagant to say that nothing which has ever been presented to the students of the University of Texas has excited a wider and deeper interest. This interest is obviously due to the visit of Mr. Tenor, a traveling secretary representing the "Student" Volunteer movement, himself a student volunteer who will go, in November, as a missionary to the Philippines.

The Student Volunteers, an organization of several thousand and of the strongest men and women of the college world, has for its watchword "The Evangelization of the World in This Generation." The fact upon which it is founded is our civilization, an outgrowth of our Christian ideals, the object which it has in view is to Christianize the world.

The National convention, conducted by the Volunteers in the interest of all college students, is held every four years, once in every student generation. Its motive is not to influence those who attend to become missionaries, but to pick men and women together from the colleges all over our country for the purpose of devising means and formulating plans for making the world better than it is.

There will be in Nashville in February, four or five thousand college men and women, representing the students and faculties of practically all of the leading colleges, as well as scores of the smaller ones of the United States and Canada. It is wonderfully significant that this greatest convocation of students of our times is brought together in the interest of Christianity.

Joe R. Mofft, chairman of the National Student Volunteer committee, is authority for the statement that the program prepared for this convention will be the greatest ever presented before any student gathering. The strongest speakers of the world will be there, such men as Robert E. Speer, President Patton of Princeton, President Angel, the British Ambassador, Commissioner Macfarlane of the District of Columbia, and Dr. Karl Fries of Sweden, Chairman of the World Student Christian Federation.

The main convention will, at one time, split up into forty-five separate conventions for the particular consideration of as many different phases of Christian work. At another time, it will split into conventions of denominations. There will be the greatest student exhibit that has ever been collected. The attractive features of the convention are so numerous and varied that we can not go into any detailed account of them here.

In the interest of the convention at Nashville, Mr. Tenor has spent several days at the University. On Sunday he addressed the Y. M. C. A. and afterwards conducted a joint meeting of the two Christian Associations. At this meeting plans were made and some definite steps taken to that end to send a delegate of at least twenty-six to represent our University at Nashville.

On Monday afternoon a mass meeting of the students was held in the auditorium. Dr. Battle, representing the Academic Faculty, acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced the speaker. After presenting a clear, rapid, logical, and forcible summary of the Student Volunteer movement, Mr. Tenor made a strong appeal to the students here to avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to get into touch with other colleges and to catch something of the spirit which seems to be inspiring men and women elsewhere with a finer conception of life in general, and of the debt that college-trained men and women owe to the world in particular.

At the close of Mr. Tenor's address, the Chair entertained a motion from the house to the effect that a committee of nine be appointed, three by the President of the University from the Faculty and three by the President of each of the two Christian Associations to take entire charge of the matter of securing a representation of the University of Texas at this convention.

In the absence of President Houston, Dean Mezes spoke briefly, expressing for the University authorities their hearty approval of this undertaking.

As a college community, we are isolated; we are outside of the circle of student population. As a consequence, such an opportunity has never come to us before and will not come again in years. It is all the more needful, therefore, that we profit by the fact that this great convention is to be at our very doors. Our University is entitled to a representation of thirty students and Faculty members. Certainly we should send not one less than this number. These delegates will be chosen by the committee appointed for the purpose; but this committee is dependent upon the co-operation and support of the student body. This, then, is the part and privilege of all connected with the institution, Regents, President, Faculty, parents, alumni, and students to contribute their share toward the accomplishment of this important purpose; and to this appeal we feel sure all will gladly respond.

THE REGENTS' MEETING.

Regents Hold Important Meeting—Provide for Summer School. Other Notable Changes.

At a meeting of the Board of Regents, held Tuesday, January 16th, the first matter considered was the enrollment of the University, and the serious problems the great increase has given rise to. The following are the figures:

1905-06 to Jan. 15 Engineering 257; law, 234; medicine, 292; academic and education, total, 754; men, 356; women, 398; per cent women, 52.6; summer 450.

1904-05 to June 14th Engineering, 208; law, 193; medicine 247; academic and education, total, 600; men, 290; women, 310; per cent women, 51.2; summer, 231.

Increase to date Engineering, 49; law, 41; medicine, 45; academic and education, total, 154; men, 66; women, 88; summer, 199.

Total 1905-06 to date, regular session 1437.

Total 1904-05 to June 15, regular session 1245.

Increase to date, regular session 192.

Total 1905-06 to date, including summer school 1987.

Total 1904-05 to June 15, including summer school 1486.

Total increase to date 501.

These statistics suggest serious problems, however, as they do an increase in the regular session, in less than a year, of 192, and small departments, including the summer school, of 501. It is reasonable to suppose that there will be an increase next year, notwithstanding certain modifications in the admission requirements. The summer school, which undoubtedly show a large increase. It is not improbable that the total increase in students taught by the University between legislative sessions will be from 900 to 1000 students.

The Regents found that the discipline in the University during the fall term had been exceedingly satisfactory. The student body numbered over 1200 at the University, and yet not a single case of misconduct calling for disciplinary action was presented. It is not believed that this record for reasonable conduct can be excelled by that of any other institution. One of the most potent factors in securing excellent discipline in the institution is the Student Association and the Executive Council. The "honor system" has obtained in the institution for a number of years, and has been perfected year by year. The students' executive council frequently meet with the advisory council to the President. The association has been entrusted with the honor of the student body, and has taken official action to see that the trust was not violated. To illustrate this action, the President of the Executive Council just before the fall term examinations sent a written statement to each of the instructors with the request that they call the attention of the new students to the system obtaining, and to the fact that the students themselves were pledged to see that the system was maintained in its full integrity. One can see the significance of this coming from the students instead of from the faculty.

The action of the authorities in eliminating a number of students from the institution for not doing satisfactory work during the fall term was reported and approved. The policy of requiring men in the University to do full work will be persistently pursued. It is believed that students should be held to as strict performance of their duties as men engaged in business and other occupations, and that a man in the University who does not, or can not, should meet with the same penalty that men otherwise occupied meet with who do not or will not work.

It was decided not to fill the vacancy in the school of Romance Languages until next year. Assistants in two branches of the school were provided. Mr. M. W. Powell was appointed student assistant in French. Mr. Clarence Folsom and Miss Emily Maveick were appointed student assistants in Spanish. Mr. Wm. E. Thomas was appointed student assistant in Geology. Mr. E. H. Elder was appointed student assistant in Civil Engineering in the place of Mr. L. C. Robertson, who tendered his resignation. Mr. C. W. Ramsdell was appointed instructor in History. Mr. Ramsdell takes Mr. E. C. Barker's place for one year. Mr. Barker having been granted leave of absence for one year to pursue special lines of work at the University of Wisconsin or the University of Columbia. Mr. Ramsdell is a Texan. He entered the University from Phillips Academy in 1900, receiving a degree of B. A. from the University in 1903 and that of M. A. in 1905. In 1903-04 he was a fellow in history. In 1904-05 he was a fellow in history at Columbia, and is now assistant in history there. During the year of 1903 Mr. Ramsdell was president of the Student Council. The subject of his thesis for his M. A. degree was "Reconstruction in Texas." Dr. E. P. Schoch, formerly chemistry, was promoted to be assistant professor in chemistry. This promotion was given in recognition of Dr. Schoch's efficient services as an instructor, of his progressive spirit and of his general service. Dr. Schoch is a Texan. He is a graduate of the University and a Ph. D. of Chicago University.

The organization of the Engineering Department was completed by the appointment of Professor Taylor as dean for the period ending September 1st, 1907. The Engineering Department now embraces three schools: Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mines. It has registered 257 regular, and ten special students. Professor Taylor has been connected with the engineering work in the University for many years. The Engineering Faculty was defined.

The admission requirements to the various departments of the University were made substantially uniform. Hereafter the subjects absolutely prescribed for entrance will be English, History, Algebra and Plane Geometry. The elective subject from which five or six subjects must be presented and absolved as early as possible for entrance, if not absolved before entrance, remained substantially as before, except three units must be presented in a foreign language instead of three units in Latin and 1-2 in each of several modern languages.

The board adopted a program for the inaugural exercises of the President. This program will be announced later. The inauguration will take place some time between the first and tenth of April.

The board approved the plan of the Law Faculty for a Summer Law School in connection with other University summer school work.

FACULTY COMMITTEE.

President Appoints a Committee to Arrange for Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The committee of faculty and students appointed to make necessary arrangements and to select the University delegates to the International conference at Nashville, are the following: Judge Townes, Dr. Battle, Miss Casis, W. C. Bryant, B. L. Glasscock, C. W. Gray, C. S. Moore, Misses Eunice Aden, May Hopkins and Lillie Campbell.

The committee will have comparatively little trouble in raising the necessary funds, but they will find it difficult to select the thirty from the large number of students who desire to go.

THE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Holds Mass Meeting and Selects Representative to Athletic Council.

The members of the Law Department convened Wednesday afternoon to elect a representative to the Athletic Council. Mr. Baptiste Adone, President of Senior Law class, presiding. Three names were placed before the body as candidates for the position: Mr. A. D. Robertson, Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Will Francis. After two ballots, Mr. Will Francis was elected, and will represent the department on the council the remainder of the year.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS.

Manager Meyer gives out the following: The management is greatly handicapped by the Athletic Council, which was caused by the indifference of many students whether the various athletic sports should be continued or not, and by their failure to contribute their library deposit to the sinking fund. The required sum has not been raised, but thirty University students have pledged the sum still unsecured May 4. This was accomplished January 7th, and on that date the management commenced on the schedule. The date proved too late to arrange the Vanderbilt and Alabama trip. The Virginia trip has been called off because the Athletic Council refused to let the team take the trip. The management, however, is in correspondence with Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Washington University (St. Louis), St. Louis University, Mississippi, Tulane and Louisiana State, as well as A. & M. Trinity, T. C. U., Baylor, and S. W. U. Out of these a trip will be arranged for embrace eight days, which the president and faculty decided should be the limit of the number of days on the baseball trip. Negotiations are also being carried on with St. Edward, the Austin league team and the Cleveland league team, which is practicing in San Antonio.

BASKET BALL.

Numerous students are centering their interest in basket ball. This is clearly demonstrated by the fact that the two courts are in daily use and in due time Texas will have a team that can easily cope with any amateur team in the state. As yet, however, the game is practically a new one with the boys. Nevertheless, they are determined that Texas shall have a good team. Excellent material goes to support this determination.

Corridor Clippings.

Sheep: Lamb, do you expect to go to Heaven?

Lamb: Yes, of course.

Sheep: Well, you know it's always the unexpected that happens. Senator

Ramsdell is an elegant, "but he's not a real one—oh! mercy, no."

Wolf: Will you have a cigar, Ramsdell?

Ramsdell: No, I'd rather put it in Picklin'.

A fellow with a girl has more trouble than anybody, except a fellow without one.

Said a Sophomore to Lammie: How much is jam a gallon?

One dollar.

How much is a half gallon?

Sixty-five cents.

Well, I'll take the other half, please.

Professor Jones: what is the plural of appendix?

Jones: Appendicitis.

THE CUCUS.

A cucus once was held.

The good old Varsity.

A great commotion dwelled.

To see which it would be.

Both Barbs and Lads were there.

Everyone could be seen.

But the man who beat the air.

Was big nose John H. Keen.

We spoke with vengeance.

Of Bill Ogden and Po.

In simple and unadorned.

John, you're a dam big road.

With characteristic grace.

Well, too, a speech did make.

But before he opened his face.

He was drowned by, "It's all a fake."

Politics being digested.

They took up the affairs of Rome.

When someone kindly suggested.

"For the Lord's sake, let's go home."

"I'm a great upper classman," says Tim.

"I'm the man with the upstinted lip;

"I'm the great P. E. C.

Keep your eyes right on me.

And when I say the word, let 'er rip."

There is also a lawyer called Neigh;

It is said he was once heard to seigh,

"I have let it get out,

That much law I can spout;

It's a bluff, but don't give it aweigh."

Do you know the great August Pool?

Who dotes on Barbarian rule?

He's the boss of B. Hall.

All Barbs come at his call.

So he thinks he's the boss of the school.

The great politician, Jay Keen,

Is the warmest that's ever been seen.

He waves his great paw,

As he lays down the law,

In a manner impressive, I ween.
